Resume Heavy Aerial Assaults Against Japan

Giant Superforts Strike At Industrial Targets On Main Island Of Honshu

BELIEVE TOKYO CENTER OF RAIDS

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—America's giant Superfortresses resumed their heavy aerial assault against Japan today, striking industrial targets on the main enemy home island of Honshu.

A preliminary communiqué from headquarters of the 20th Air Force in Washington revealed that an undisclosed number of B-29's from the 21st Bomber Command on Saipan raided Honshu in a daylight mission.

Specific targets were not mentioned, but the main objectives on land have been the enemy capital of Tokyo with its Musashima aircraft plants and the plane-producing center of Nagoya.

The Tokyo radio said an hour after the initial announcement that the heavily industrialized Osaka and Nagoya areas were the targets of the B-29's.

The attack was "centered mainly around the Nagoya area," said the broadcast recorded by the FCC.

"Bombs were dropped over the Osaka area and also over the Nagoya area," according to the Nipponese report which said that Marianas-based Superfortresses came over "in several formations" but asserted that because of "gallant interception" by Japanese Air Force units the attackers "fled toward the south over the sea."

"Superfortresses of the 21st Bomber Command" were also reported.

Don't forget about feeding the birds and small game these wintry days. The record snows have made conditions for the birds and small game abnormal, and without feeding aid, many will perish.

There will probably be a lot of pupils in schools of Western Pennsylvania blessing the weatherman next spring, when the days being lost due to present weather conditions have to be made up by extension of the term.

Sub-zero wave sort of let up on its grip on the community overnight, when temperatures went up eight or ten points from the mark of Tuesday evening. More of the sustained type of winter is scheduled however, says a forecast.

January seems to be starting right out where December left off, as far as snow and cold weather are concerned. Winter this year so far has been a decided contrast to last year. In December, 1943, only an inch and a quarter of snow fell during the entire month. January was not much different, snow flurries being noted on several days, with a fall of an inch and a half on January 23, by the greatest amount noted at one time during the month. The lowest temperature in January 1944 was eight degrees, and there were only 12 days during the month that it got below 20 degrees.

Defenders Of Bastogne Carry On American Traditions Of Heroism

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Brig. Gen. A. C. McAuliffe, commanding the 101st Airborne Division at Bastogne, said: "The cocky fighting spirit of these airborne troops was just as contagious as panic... that sort of spirit makes you feel you can take anything the enemy has to give."

The heroic spirit displayed by members of the American Armed Forces, under conditions of greatest adversity, is inspiring beyond words. Demonstration of that heroism has been made in every war fought by the United States. Under proper leadership man can rise above humanity and defy death even after death. That ability most definitely applies to the fighting men of the armed forces of the United States.

All of our fighting men have, during this most awful of wars, built up a fighting spirit which defies death. In the assault they exult in that defiance. The Sea-Bees both ignore and disregard death while they work on captured beaches in the midst of the most bitter conflict. The men of our tanks joke as they ride into "The Valley of the Shadow of Death". Our rangers are so tough, they can meet any physical hazard and overcome it. Our air-borne units are fighting to outdo all other units.

New Congress Session Opens At Noon Today

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A new congress convened at noon today with the gala ceremonies which usually accompany the event overshadowed by the somber war news.

The congress is the 79th in American history, and the now venerable institution of democracy neared its 156th anniversary as members gathered for history-making tasks in the next two years.

Both the senate and house were called into session promptly at 12 o'clock by the ringing of gavel. Vice President Henry A. Wallace summoned the senate into session while Clerk South Trimble ordered the call of the roll of the entire new house.

Galleries in both senate and house were packed for the swearing in ceremonies, with the entire house of 435 members being sworn in and one-third of the senate taking the oath. Long lines of would-be spectators waited outside the packed galleries.

Members were happy as the roll-call emphasized the gains made by the party in the recent election. The house stood 243 Democrats to 142 Republicans.

Japanese Report Superforts Bomb Area Of Nagoya

Several Other Sectors Are Also Included In Latest B-29 Attacks

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A communiqué issued by Japanese Imperial headquarters reported that "about 90" Marianas-based American Superfortresses bombed today the Nagoya area, where the main weight of the attack was concentrated, while "other units" raided the vicinity of Osaka, to the south, and Hamamatsu, to the north.

The communiqué was transmitted by the Domei agency and reported by the FCC.

Imperial headquarters claimed that 17 B-29's were shot down and 25 damaged. Tokyo admitted "two of our planes have not yet reported back."

The Japs owned up to only slight damage in the Nagoya area. "Although there were some damages inflicted in Nagoya and Hamamatsu areas by the enemy incendiary bombs, there were almost no damages inflicted upon vital facilities and factories," the enemy account asserted.

Raids Continue For 25th Day On Iwo Jima Island

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A Pacific fleet headquarters communiqué disclosed today that air attacks against the Jap base at Iwo Jima in the Volcano Islands, some 750 miles south of Tokyo, have been carried into the 25th consecutive day. The raid was carried out Dec. 31 by big four-motored Liberators which hit enemy airfield installations, encountering only moderate anti-aircraft fire.

Report Bold Thrust Is Made Into Enemy Waters East Of Formosa

FIVE JAP VESSELS FIRED BY ATTACK

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HQ., Philippines, Jan. 3.—The first bold thrust by Philippine-based Liberators into enemy waters east of Formosa, 250 miles northwest of Luzon Island, was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Luzon itself felt the tightening pressure of American air power.

Five Japanese vessels were set afire and four planes shot down Sunday when the Liberators soared over the Formosa area in the growing air war to cut enemy air and surface supply lines to the Philippines.

Formosa, site of vital Japanese air and naval installations hard hit in November by Adm. William F. Halsey's carrier planes and once by B-29's, was the springboard of enemy invasion fleets which descended on the Philippines three years ago.

Fighter bombers sweeping over southern provinces of heavily bombed Luzon caused additional widespread damage, hitting warehouses, railway facilities, power plants and wharves.

Hit Enemy Facilities
Mitchells ranging farther north over the capital city of the Philippines struck enemy facilities at Laoag, igniting large fires, and sank a 2,000-ton merchant vessel off the coast, while patrol planes blew up a Jap gunboat in the South China sea.

In the central Philippines, Mitchells bombed the Slay air-drome on Negros Island, starting fresh fires in supply areas.

On Leyte Island, 778 more Japs were killed and one taken prisoner in continued mopping-up, raising to 119,762 the number of Japs who have perished in Japan's futile fight to hold the islands.

On Mindanao, south of Leyte, Liberators struck the Sassa and (Continued On Page Two)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A solemn high requiem mass will be held tomorrow for Dr. John P. Condon, 34-year-old educator who won international fame 10 years ago as "Jafsie," an intermediary in the sensational kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

Big Three Will Seek To Settle War Problems

President Roosevelt Completing Plans For Conference With Stalin And Churchill

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Roosevelt completed plans today for a second great allied war conference with Marshal Joseph Stalin and Prime Minister Winston Churchill to iron out differences on political policy in liberated countries, and to draw up a blueprint for the final defeat of Germany this year.

The second meeting of the "big three" leaders will probably take place next month, although no official announcement of the time or place of the conference has been made.

To Take Place Shortly
The chief executive disclosed positively, however, that the new war-and-political-strategy gathering will take place shortly. He used the word "anon" in referring to the time of the meeting, adding that he believed "anon" is synonymous with "soon."

While Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Prime Minister Churchill at Quebec in August at a full-dress joint war council on plans for swift progress of victory against Japan, including British naval participation, it will be the first time all (Continued On Page Two)

Congress Ready To Get Tough On 'Winning War'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The 79th Congress convenes today with indications that its 531 members are ready to join the G.I.'s in really "getting tough" about the job of winning the war.

All the optimism of early victory which was generated during the presidential campaign had gone as the new Congress clashed with the reality of German and Japanese toughness and the increasing seriousness of the manpower problem.

Congress will wait for President Roosevelt to set the pattern of its legislation in his annual message on the state of the Union on Saturday, but there were indications that the new legislature will follow him despite some bitter opposition.

DELIVER 52 SHIPS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—East coast shipyards delivered fifty-two ships to the nation's fighting and merchant fleets during December.

J. F. McNelis, east coast construction director of the U. S. Maritime Commission, reported today.

The month's total brought the east coast production record for the year to 570 ships. Included in the December figures were seven tankers and one cargo vessel built at the Sun Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. at Chester.

Report Planes Destroy 374 Nazi Transports In Day

WITH THE SECOND TACTICAL AIR FORCE IN BELGIUM, Jan. 3.—(INS)—American Second Tactical Air Force planes destroyed 374 German transports, 55 armored fighting vehicles and 11 tanks in the Ardennes salient yesterday, officials reported today.

Aircraft hit enemy transportation on the networks of roads near St. Vith.

The United States seventh army under command of Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch which landed in southern France last fall and threw the Germans out of the Riviera brought to a dead halt a sharp Nazi thrust in the lower Saar valley, while around famed Bastogne, the third army struck out to east and west.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters made no attempt to disguise the fact that Von Rundstedt may have some punches left. But events of the last few days have proved conclusively that the American armies in Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany have recovered their balance completely and now are fully prepared for whatever the enemy is able to offer.

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—The war time operational budget of $497,459,081 for the 1945-47 biennium coupled with Gov. Edward Martin's recommendation for a post war program financed from an anticipated $170,958,000 surplus in state funds was before the General Assembly today.

In addition, the Commonwealth will receive $37,300,000 for highway improvement from the federal government. The next biennium starts June 1.

The general fund surplus amounted to $110,700,000 while the balance was held in the Motor License fund. Post war expenditures will be spread over a period extending beyond the end of the biennium.

Address To Joint Session
In an address to a joint session of the General Assembly last night, Gov. Edward Martin called for a brief but businesslike session during 1945 and urged legislators to put aside partisanship during the war-time meeting.

The Governor asked the lawmakers to re-enact the nine-year-old emergency taxes on corporate net incomes, cigarettes, liquor and gross receipts. The four special levies were expected to net the Commonwealth $151,722,500 during the next biennium.

All-Out Assault In Progress In Bastogne Sector

German Offensive Salient Is Being Steadily Whittled Down By Yanks

SEVENTH ARMY HALTS NAZI PUSH

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, Jan. 3.—(INS)—American troops striving to break the back of Germany's thrust into Belgium by a junction of north-south forces along the Arlon-Liege road grappled with the Nazis in bitter fighting around Bastogne today and spread out as much as 11 miles in different directions.

Directly north of Bastogne along the road to Liege, troops of the United States Third Army got into the town of Michamp and fighting was under way at Bourcy. Armored spearheads reached Bois De Maister, 5½ miles from Bastogne, while to the south advanced elements entered Bouchemp after a one-mile advance.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—The hard-hitting United States Third Army, reported by the Germans to have cut loose with an all-out assault in the Bastogne sector, scored substantial gains today along the whole southern flank of the Nazi-held Belgian-Luxembourg salient.

Points as distant as 11 miles west of Bastogne and others as far as four miles east were entered by the Yanks steadily whittling down the German offensive salient.

At the western end of the Belgian battleground, forward patrols reached (Continued On Page Six)

U. S. Air Force In Huge Raids Upon Germany

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—United States Eighth Air Force heavy bombers roared over the Reich for the 12th consecutive day to blast German communications centers today.

The Yank daylight attack was preceded by a night assault against the German cities of Nurnberg, Ludwigsfelden and Berlin by more than 1,000 heavy bombers of the British Royal Air Force.

Observers on the east and south-east coasts of England reported that American Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by fighters, headed toward the continent in an unceasing procession which required two hours to pass a given point.

COLDER WEATHER WILL COME BACK

Frigid Wave Modified Today, But Forecast Says Temperature To Drop Again

The cold wave which blanketed the area east of the Rockies during the last 24 hours appeared moving out into the Atlantic today, weather bureau forecasters said. However, another period of frigid weather sweeping out of the northwest will give short relief to the sub-zero temperatures prevailing in most areas.

During the last 24 hours temperatures throughout the Middle Mississippi Valley and the north central states have modified 20 to 30 degrees. Warmer air was expected over the eastern and New England states early today.

Colder Tomorrow
In Pennsylvania, where temperatures ranged from two degrees below zero at Williamsport and Bellefonte, to 15 above at Philadelphia, the weatherman said the warmer trend would continue throughout the day but that colder temperatures would reappear tomorrow.

In Philadelphia the mercury is expected to rise to 28, while the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton area with a low of 4 during the night was promised a five degree temperature boost. Other low temperature readings in the state were Mt. Pocono, one degree; Harrisburg, nine; Pittsburgh, four, and Black Moshannon, five.

Light snow fell over eastern Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan during the last 24 hours, while a record blizzard buried north central Ohio and closed all main roads and forced shutting down of most rural schools.

Don't mind the wintry weather, don't heed the wintry blast, remember it will end some time, this weather will not last. Turn up a few thin pages, the calendar will show the days when it is warm and bright without this steel and snow. Turn up to fishing weather, the middle of July, and close your eyes and sit a spell the pecks and moths roll by. And as you sit there dreaming of sunny days of yore, remember this, the weather still is touching twenty-four.

Report Funds Expended For U. S. Election

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Democratic and Republican National committees reported today to the clerk of the House that they spent a total of $4,884,773.14 during the 1944 presidential campaign, considerably under the six million dollar limit prescribed by law.

Total receipts in 1944 for the two committees were $4,562,783.69.

The listings are exclusive of those to be filed by January 10 with the House clerk by other political committees.

The Republican National committee disclosed that it spent $2,828,651.56 last year, including expenditures made during the campaign of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the presidency.

In a final report for the 1944 election, filed with the clerk of the House, Ray R. Dobson, assistant treasurer, listed total contributions of $2,999,999.48 leaving the committee a balance of $171,347.92 at the end of the year.

Contributions from November 2, five days before the election, to December 31 amounted to $236,492, while expenditures for the same period were $820,551. Previous amounts for the year were listed in earlier reports.

Near Limit

Under the Hatch political activities act, no political committee can receive contributions or make expenditures of more than three millions dollars. Contributions received by the GOP committee were 52 cents under the limit.

The Democratic National committee listed expenditures of $2,056,121.58 and receipts of $2,562,784.21 in its 1944 report, leaving a balance at the end of the year of $506,662. However, unpaid obligations on December 31 totaled $112,555. The committee began the year 1944 with a bank balance of $9,148.

Mae Oliver, assistant treasurer, disclosed that Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan received a weekly salary of $284.61 over a 42-week period.

Among the larger receipts listed was one for $40,000 from the Washington birthday dinner, Dallas, Tex.

Canadian Forces In Italy Gain Ground

ROME, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Canadian infantry and tanks, attacking northwest of Ravenna in Italy, gained ground today between the Senio river and Fossatecchio despite stiff German resistance.

Headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander reported that on the remainder of the Eighth Army front and on the Fifth Army front, activity was confined to patrol sorties supported by mortar and artillery fire.

Planes of the Mediterranean Allied Air Force yesterday flew 1,000 sorties, cut up 40 railway lines and smashed 13 bridges northwest of the Po Valley. Attacks also were made in the area of the Brenner Pass. Only one plane was lost.

The sacred mountain of Japan, Fujiyama, is 60 miles from Tokyo, and is 12,425 feet high.

STATE BUDGET IS PRESENTED

Legislature to continue the cent a gallon emergency tax on liquid fuels and to earmark receipts for disbursement to local governments for road, street and bridge improvements and thus enable municipal authorities to cut real estate taxes.

Approximately $22,000,000 was expected to be collected during the next two years.

Estimated Receipts

Total estimated General Fund receipts for the biennium were placed at $369,000,000 while appropriations were pegged at $366,206,547, Governor Martin explained.

He called upon assemblymen to use $48,870,000 of the General Fund surplus to retire bonds of the non-operating general state authority, the Commonwealth's depression-born construction agency.

The operational budget for the next biennium, the Governor added, was $10,314,802 under the amount for 1943-45 period.

The chief executive recommended tagging the $61,865,000 balance in General Fund for post war improvements embracing streams, hospitals and prisons, teachers colleges, and a new state police training school. Approximately $1,000,000 should be earmarked to aid local governments prepare post war plans, he added.

Allocation of $27,000,000 for cost-of-living salary bonuses for more than 61,000 school teachers also was urged by the governor. He pointed out it had been necessary to ask a deficiency appropriation of $2,442,000 to supplement the $24,300,000 approved by the assembly in 1943 for the bonuses which ranged from $200 to $600 a biennium.

The biennial appropriation for the Department of Public Assistance was fixed at $88,220,000 or $1,012,000 less than was allocated for the present biennium. He contrasted the amount with the $214,710,000 set aside for the department during the 1939-41 period.

Will Re-Examine Deferments For Farm Youths 18-25

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes today ordered selective service to re-examine and cancel wherever possible draft deferments among the 364,000 youth in the ages of 18 through 25 who are employed in agriculture.

President Roosevelt, Byrnes said, feels that agriculture, like war industries, should carry on with older men.

As an extension of his new tough policy on the home front, Byrnes directed Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey to re-examine farm deferments to make certain that each worker is vital to food production.

The Tidings amendment to the draft law provides for the deferment of agricultural workers who are irreplaceable in their jobs.

Byrnes explained in a letter to Hershey that urgent manpower demands of the armed forces necessitated today's action, asserting that the nation's pool of men 18-25 is virtually exhausted with exception of the farm group.

The war mobilizer said the army and navy do not desire men above this age and added that he had been advised the induction of agricultural workers who do not clearly meet the requirements of the Tidings amendment would not result in a serious food problem.

The Tidings amendment, Byrnes asserted, does not provide absolute draft exemption.

Japs Told War Situation Grave

Shortage Of Essential War Materials Will Be More Acute As War Progresses

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Japanese people were warned again today that the war situation was grave and that the present shortage in essential war materials held responsible for Japan's reverses in the Pacific would become more acute with the progress of the war.

The speaker was Lieut. Comdr. Arimichi Yamagata, advisor attached to the Imperial palace and former war minister. Excerpts of his speech broadcast by the Japanese radio were reported by the FCC.

Any possible feeling of optimism, he added, was certainly not warranted in the face of the current B-29 Superfortress raids on the Japanese homeland which he said were "blasting our important war industries and blindly scattering incendiaries and other explosives."

Several Flee From Pittsburgh Blaze

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A three-alarm fire, which caused damage estimated at about $10,000, today drove businessmen and nearly 20 families from the three-story Murphy building in Sheraden.

Firemen helped many of the apartment dwellers down fire escapes and one woman, who had been ill for six months, was carried down.

A four-alarm fire in the building three years ago resulted in death to one woman and injury to a dozen others.

George Blair, who lives on the third floor, said "something seemed to blow up" in the basement.

Road Conditions In This District

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Motor club today reported that the Pennsylvania Turnpike was icy, but passable.

At the same time it reported Erie county roads were also open, but icy.

Closed roads, the club stated, included 27, Meadville to Titusville; 98, Meadville to Butler county line; 358, Greenville to state line and 58, Greenville to Jamestown.

U. S. AIR FORCE IN HUGE RAIDS UPON GERMANY

Germans carried out air action against southern England. Both damage and casualties resulted.

Leave City Abaze
The Air Ministry, describing the mission to Nurnberg as a "successful" attack said that Britain's big bombers had left the German city abaze.

Industrial and railway targets were blasted at Nurnberg and the principal target at Ludwigshafen was the I. G. Farben Industrie chemical works.

Yesterday more than 1,000 big U. S. Eighth Air Force bombers, escorted by more than 650 fighters, delivered a series of devastating blows against rail bridges, railway marshalling yards and road and rail junctions.

German Hold Slight
This gain would seem to leave the Germans in the western section with little more than a few fortified rubble heaps close to the bank of the Danube.

In the Buda fighting, Russians destroyed a large amount of German equipment, including 23 machineguns and one self-propelled gun. Nine locomotives and 130 loaded trains were captured.

In the entire Hungarian capital, the communique said, Soviet forces were fighting for the liquidation of the surrounded enemy.

German infantry and tank counter-attacks southeast of the town of Kórnáro are being repelled by Soviet infantry and artillery, the communique stated, and the Germans are suffering heavy losses in manpower and equipment.

BIG THREE WILL SEEK TO SETTLE WAR PROBLEMS

three allied leaders have met together since their first historic November-December gathering in Tehran, Iran, in 1943.

Near Borders of Russia
Their second conference, like the first, is expected to take place somewhere near the borders of Russia, in view of Stalin's insistence that, as active head of the Russian armies, he is unable to leave the Soviet Union for any considerable distance or extended time.

The new conference will bring the three leaders together at a time when there are great political problems as well as problems of war strategy to be discussed.

Mr. Roosevelt, in confirming that he will have another get-together meeting with Stalin and Churchill shortly, admitted that certain differences have arisen among the allies. He said it is only natural that differences should arise—that some are quite important; others of lesser importance.

THRUST IN LOWER SAAR VALLEY BY NAZIS IS HALTED

sive failed to achieve any of its objectives beyond dislocating the allied timetable—an almost minor factor when it is considered that the Germans might have changed the whole picture of the war in December and possibly even altered its outcome.

Von Rundstedt's attack in the seventh army sector indicates that the Germans now hope for nothing more than to drive all American troops from their home soil, and even in this they seem foredoomed to failure.

Fen. Patch's swift reaction to the assault, which stopped the Nazis after they had gained some two miles, left the third army free to continue its widening of the Bastogne corridor in preparation for an expected assault against the enemy stronghold of Houffalize on the road to Liege and an eventual junction of allied forces operating north and south of the German "bulge" which will split Von Rundstedt's forces in two.

er command on a daylight mission attacked industrial targets on the island of Honshu, Japan, today, Wednesday, January 3, 1945 (Japanese calendar), said the communiqué issued by Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the 20th Air Force.

"A communique will be issued when operational reports are received in Washington from Brig. Gen. H. S. Hansell, commanding general of the 21st Bomber Command."

Today's attack on Honshu was the first major air blow against the Japanese homeland in the new year. The last big attack against the Japs was carried out a week ago when a medium force of Saipan-based B-29's scored at least 12 bomb hits on the sprawling Musashima aircraft plant in the western suburbs of Tokyo.

There have already been several nuisance raids on the Jap islands, however. The enemy radio reported last night that three American Superfortresses had dropped incendiary bombs on Tokyo during New Year's eve and New Year's morning.

The Rev. Frederick B. Harris, chaplain of the senate and the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the house, invoked divine aid for the congress.

Year of Destiny
Dr. Harris described 1945 as "the new year of the decision of destiny" and prayed for patience and wisdom in meeting the problems of the year.

Vice President Wallace swore in new senators in groups of four. A stir was created when Democratic Leader Barkley, through Sen. McKellar (D. Tenn.), asked that Senator-elect Homer Capehart, Indiana Republican, be sworn in without prejudice.

This preserves the right of possible contests growing out of an investigation conducted by the campaign finance committee.

Two newly-elected senators—Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Gov. Donnell of Missouri—were absent. Both are expected to take their oaths soon.

Sen. Downey (D. Cal.), who was re-elected, also was absent as 29 newly-elected senators took the oath.

In that ten year period there have been many changes in local funeral establishments. It is better to learn about the funeral services as they are today. To that end we invite inquiry and comparison.

Q. When is it wrong to have your eyes examined?

Ans. If you have been using cold tablets containing quinine or atropine; wait two weeks after you have discontinued the drug, and then have your eyes examined.

Q. Are most cases of dizziness caused by the eyes?

Ans. Yes, but some cases may be caused by heart disease, or a deranged blood pressure or a toxic (poisonous) condition.

Q. Should a left-handed child be forced to use his right hand?

Ans. No, because it may be the cause of stammering and jerking movements of the body. A left-handed child who uses his left eye mainly sometimes reads words backwards such as "but" for "but", the left eye is then judged to be the dominant eye.

STATE SENATE ADJOURNS TO JANUARY 15

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Republican-controlled house turned back an attempt of the Democratic bloc to gain equal representation on standing committees and shortly thereafter concurred in a senate-approved resolution to recess the 136th biennial session of the General Assembly until January 15 on Tuesday.

The senate ended the initial day's work an hour and 45 minutes after 12 p.m. Gov. John C. Bell Jr. pounded the opening gavel but the house was plunged into a debate on committee representation shortly after the call to order at noon.

The Democratic motion for equal representation was defeated 109 to 85 with Rep. Homer Brown (D) Allegheny leading a small faction of his colleagues into the majority camp.

Rep. Thomas B. Stockham (R) Bucks was named chairman of the 11-member committee on committees and he assured Democrats "They will receive the very best consideration."

Speaker Ira T. Fiss, of Snyder was returned to the rostrum for another term in the house while Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, of Dauphin, won the nomination for president pro tempore in the upper chamber.

The sidewalks from Court and Washington run from Washington to McCready Way on both Court and County Line streets. The walks on the court house grounds are long and in addition to all of these there are two sets of steps.

Thus far this winter Cliff James and his force have used up over two tons of rock salt in their effort to keep the walks clear.

Buddy Of Sgt. Broad Is Guest Of Lions

S-Sgt. Richard W. Rowan, Youngstown, One Of Deshon Annex Veterans At Luncheon

Through a strange coincidence, one of the guests from Deshon annex who attended Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the New Castle Lions club was a buddy of S-Sgt. William H. Broad, who has been missing in action since November 9, and who, it has been learned, is a prisoner of war of the German government. He is S-Sgt. Richard W. Rowan, of Youngstown. Also present as one of the Lions club members was Henry Broad, father of William, and the two had an interesting reunion.

Sgt. Rowan got acquainted with Sgt. Broad while the latter was still attached to the 190th field artillery in England and learning that Broad was dissatisfied with the field artillery, induced him to transfer to the air corps. Sgt. Rowan completed his missions, and was returned to this country, but his acquaintance has become impaired and he expects to receive a discharge from service in the near future. He was overjoyed to learn that his buddy, Sgt. Broad, who had been missing, is now known to be safe.

Other guests of the club at the luncheon meeting were Pfc. Richard H. Churchill of Boston, Mass., assigned, who saw service in England and Pvt. Erwin Kiefer of Detroit, Mich., who saw service with the medical corps at Fort Lewis, Wash.

The talking picture, "America's Secret Weapon," was shown to the club. This is a presentation of the Committee of Economic Development and shows how preparation can be made for the postwar period.

Plan For Six Classes Here For Prospective New Home Owners

"Building or Buying a Home," a series of six informal classes for prospective home-owners, will be conducted by the Penn. State Department of Architecture and the college extension services, beginning January 11, according to an announcement by H. C. Stoddart, district representative for the extension services in this area.

War restrictions have caused a backlog of two million homes waiting to be built in the United States, said E. Kenneth Johnstone, head of the department of architecture, which prepared the course for use throughout the state.

"There will undoubtedly be a flood of residential building when labor and material are available," Johnstone said, "but building requires careful planning. We offer this course to help the person who wants his own home, understand the problems involved."

Stating that factual information is necessary, Johnstone emphasized that the six topics to be covered—finance, planning, site selection, costs, construction, and contracts—are the most important phases of building. The instructor, in addition to presenting this information, will answer questions by the members of the class.

Registration should be made at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of New Castle. A registration fee of $2.00 per person, or $3.00 per married couple is necessary to cover part of the expenses. The first class will be held on Thursday night, January 11, at 7:30 o'clock. The other five classes will be held on successive Thursday evenings.

Nearly 900 Bills Pack Hopper In New Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—From eight to nine hundred bills—many of them proposing benefits for service men and women—today packed the house hopper to capacity and promised plenty of work for the new 79th Congress.

As of sundown last night, only 141 bills were received by house clerks—a low number for opening day—but overnight the hopper was flooded with "so many we haven't had a chance to even open them," one clerk declared.

By opening of the 79th Congress at noon, however, all the bills were duly recorded.

Rep. Voorhis (D) Calif., lead the early "bill-introducers" with a total of 36 out of the 141 introduced early, and was followed by Rep. Lane (D) Mass., with 22.

Many Pension Bills
Three bills deal specifically with old-age pensions. One would "establish a self-sustaining national pension system that will benefit retired citizens 60 years of age and over; and to stabilize the economic structure of the nation; and to induce a more equitable distribution of wealth through monetary circulation."

The second Lane bill would increase "the amount which the United States may contribute to any state for old age assistance in respect of any individual from $20 to $50 per month."

A third old-age pension measure would "provide for the payment of direct federal old-age assistance to citizens 60 years of age or older."

Rep. Sam Hobbs (D) Ala., introduced an anti-sabotage bill, Lane introduced a bill "to repeal the automobile-use tax."

Among Voorhis' bills is one which would "authorize the coinage of 50 cent pieces in commemoration of the memory of Will Rogers."

A number of other bills are expected to be introduced during the next fortnight.

Cheap Automobile Wanted After War

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A three-cylinder automobile to sell for less than $500 in the postwar era was in want of a manufacturer today.

Denis Kendall, member of the British House of Commons and an expert on automobiles, sought the aid of officials of the Higgins Industry in manufacturing the proposed vehicle. Shipbuilder Andrew Higgins, however, has previously declared that he is "not interested" in building automobiles.

Kendall's plans call for an automobile having an air-cooled motor, rear wheel drive, and which would utilize exhaust fumes for propulsion. A radio would be standard equipment, Kendall said.

RAILROAD COAL TIPPLE BURNS

Considerable Damage Caused By
Blaze At Pennsylvania Railroad
Shops Tuesday Evening

Considerable damage was caused at the Pennsylvania Railroad Shops, in the Seventh Ward, Tuesday evening, when fire broke out in the large coal tipple at 5:32 o'clock. The cause of the blaze was not determined.

An alarm from Box 713 called three fire companies to the scene, who fought for several hours before it was finally extinguished, coal in the pockets on the tipple making a furious fire.

Two cars loaded with coal, atop the tipple, were pulled away from the danger zone by a shifting engine.

Firemen were hampered in fighting the blaze by near-zero temperatures.

Germans Suffer Heavy Losses

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The tremendous losses suffered by the Germans since Field Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt's offensive began were indicated by BBC Correspondent Cyril Ray who said, as reported today by London radio:

"There is good reason to believe that the Germans started out with about 900 tanks and self-propelled guns. By Sunday night 425 had been knocked out. That is nearly half the entire force."

The CBS short wave listening station recorded the broadcast which added that "since that time Allied aircraft have destroyed still more tanks; 11 were knocked out by the American Tactical Air Force yesterday."

ed the key pivotal hub of St. Hubert but later withdrew from the town.

The U. S. patrols were reported to have come away from St. Hubert with valuable information.

Advance From Moirey
Other Yank forces advanced from Moirey to the wooded area of Bois De Lambayfays, a mile northwest of the town and 11 miles west of Bastogne. Gains of three-quarters of a mile were scored due north of Bonnerue.

The Bois Des Balets, five miles west of Bastogne, was cleared of enemy forces.

Front reports said that some of the troops commanded by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton had entered the town of Benichamps, four miles west of Bastogne and two miles northeast of Warden Headquarters reported heavy fighting in the vicinity, in the areas around Neffe and Warden.

Halted By Seventh Army
On the newly-activated Saar front, where the Germans attacked in what was believed a diversionary offensive, headquarters said that although American Seventh Army troops gave some ground up to the initial German blows all of the enemy thrusts either had been halted or slowed down.

An unconfirmed Brussels radio report said that heavy fighting raged between the Americans and Germans inside the Maginot bastion town of Eltche.

The 5th and 26th divisions were heavily engaged south of Wiltz in Luxembourg, battling against strongly-entrenched terrain. In the Saar region, where the Germans made a surprise attack against the United States Seventh Army, the enemy maintained his bridgehead across the Blies river.

Half a mile west of Rimling, a battalion of enemy infantry with ten tanks was thrown back and small forces which infiltrated the American lines were mopped up.

German broadcasts reported heavy American reinforcements thrown into battle.

Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, military correspondent of the German Trans-Ocean agency admitted that German troops in the Bastogne area had "yielded to massed armored forces" of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army, but claimed the Americans had "failed to achieve the desired breakthrough to Houfalze."

The German DNB agency which admitted that General Patton had unleashed a full-dress drive in the Bastogne sector to unhinge the front line of the Nazi arc-like front in Belgium asserted at the same time that the Germans had broken through Yank lines at Bitche in the Saar valley battling.

Some Penetrations
The first punches of the enemy against the Seventh enabled the Germans to score some penetrations of a mile and one-half to two miles, but there were no indications that the Nazis had achieved any appreciable gains since.

American forces in the immediate area of Bastogne pushed out in three directions, to the west, east and northeast. In moving west, the Yanks advanced along the Bastogne-Marche road against stiff opposition. Pressing ahead a mile along the road they eventually captured Mandesterrine and also approached the village of Monty along the main road.

The most effective gains were scored northeast and east of Bastogne. During the march east the American troops fought their way along the main road and captured Mageret, then advanced a mile beyond to the neighborhood of Longvilly. Mageret is situated in the embattled Benichamps area.

Troops which moved northeast reached the vicinity of Michamps, five miles northeast of Bastogne, where presently they are heavily engaged with the enemy.

Farther south, a few miles west of the Belgian-Luxembourg frontier and near the town of Warden, gains were made in the face of the heaviest kind of enemy opposition.

Patton Lauds Third Army

U. S. THIRD ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A stirring tribute to troops of the Third Army was paid today by their colorful commander, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.

In a New Year's order of the day dated December 31, Gen. Patton said:

"From the bloody corridor of Arras to Brest, thence across France to the Saar, over the Saar into Germany and now on to Bastogne, your record has been one of continuous victory."

"The speed and brilliance of your achievements are unsurpassed in military history."

Recalling that ground force Commander Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley had recently awarded him the second Oak Leaf Cluster to his distinguished Service Medal, Gen. Patton said:

"This award was bestowed on me not for what I have done but because of what you have achieved."

"From the bottom of my heart I thank you."

"My New Year wish and my sure conviction for you is that under the protection of Almighty God and the inspired leadership of our president and the high command, you will continue your victorious course to end tyranny so that vice will be eliminated, our dead comrades avenged and peace restored to a war-weary world."

Governor Dewey Sends Message To Legislature

Most Liberal Message Ever Penned By Republican Chief Executive Reaches Legislature

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALBANY, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, in the most liberal message ever penned by a Republican chief executive, today placed before the 1945 New York legislature a billion dollar program designed to rebuild the state's physical plant and to protect its industrial supremacy in the postwar era.

The 1944 Republican presidential candidate, before a joint opening session of Senate and Assembly, called for an $800,000,000 highway construction program, and a $100,000,000 state building program and more state subsidies for lowest housing.

He asked that state aid for education be increased and made more equitable, that workmen's compensation benefits be extended to domestic and restaurant workers, and that the state place additional teeth in its laws aimed at racial and religious discrimination.

Large Surplus
He preceded his recommendations with a report that the state's 1944-45 surplus will approximate $150,000,000 and a recommendation that this entire sum be frozen into the postwar reconstruction fund, which already contains last year's $163,000,000 surplus.

Governor Dewey also proposed that state employees be given 10 to 20 per cent proportionate wage increases.

Taxpayers were assured of continuation of the 25 per cent reduction in state income taxes, but the governor failed to recommend any other tax reductions.

He labeled the New York state soldier vote law a "conspicuous success" and recommended that it be continued. He further proposed a constitutional amendment to permit free voting by members of the Merchant Marine, the Red Cross and other similar authorized agencies.

The governor said that the commission created to study proposed veteran's legislation and set up a veterans service agency in the state will recommend that the state veterans' commission in the executive department be made permanent.

Lodging, Travel Problems Fail To Deter Wives Of Men In The Armed Forces

By VIRGINIA C. COOKSEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ATLANTA, Ga.—When a soldier's wife "wants to see her man," nothing seems to deter her. At least, none of the varied and complex problems thousands of wives of service men present to the Travelers Aid Society in Atlanta, the transportation hub of the southeast deter them.

In fact, these wives are concerned only with getting where they want to go. Any difficulties that would delay them assume such minor importance that nothing matters except a solution to the immediate problem, according to Mrs. F. F. Athearn, executive secretary of the society.

Travelers Aid tries to help these wives meet their difficulties by offering suggestions and doing everything possible to put the best plan into execution.

"We answer questions in such a way as to suit the needs of the individual. The matter must be handled very delicately and subtly without an attempt in any sense to pry."

"They come to us with all sorts of personal problems which have nothing to do with traveling. Here again we offer our assistance."

She continued by telling of wives whose husbands receive sudden and unexpected orders of transfer to places where the wives cannot follow.

People are traveling who have never traveled before, she said. Lacking experience, they do not know how to go about meeting the situations with which they are faced.

Britain Plans Big Network Of Air Lines

By JOHN CAMSELL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON—A helicopter lands lightly on the roof of one of London's super air-stations and passengers for New York and Sydney step in and are flown quickly to the huge airport just outside London, where they will be transferred into a luxurious pullman airliner for the long haul to lands far away.

This is no brave new world pipe-dream, but stark reality if the scheme as planned by Lord Knollys, chairman of the British Overseas Airways Corp., get shoehorned thru the narrow channel of British officialdom.

Quick Travel Ahead
In a recent speech elaborating and giving further details on his grandiose plan to put the British Empire firmly on the post-war aviation map, Lord Knollys stated that in the future it would be possible to leave London on Friday evening and arrive in Sydney by breakfast the following Monday morning.

Immediately after the war, Lord Knollys said, it would be possible to get to the trans-oceanic airports outside London very quickly either by air or special train, while later "perhaps by helicopter."

Titan air-liners weighing more than 50 tons, with enough space to make them look like club or Pullman railroad cars, will span the oceans of the world, giving passengers the last word in luxury travel. The interior will be planned to make the best possible use of the space, with specially light materials, carefully studied color schemes and comfortable sleeping bunks.

Looking at the fuselage from the outside it will be circular, because that is the best shape to keep the pressure inside more or less stable. These liners will streak through the stratosphere, far above the bad weather, at anything between 230 and 250 miles per hour.

To Control Pressure
Most of the unpleasant sensations of flying high or climbing and descending quickly will be avoided because the pressure inside the cabin will be controlled.

You will leave London on Friday night at the end of a full week's work," said Lord Knollys, "and next morning you will be awakened in your bunk with early morning tea and will find yourself looking over the shores of the eastern Mediterranean. Breakfast will be had on land while the aircraft is being refueled and the bunks turned into day seats."

"After a bath and breakfast you will be going on to India, where you should arrive by the same Saturday night."

"Across India to Singapore and Australia, reaching Sydney on Monday morning in time to commence work, or on to New Zealand six or seven hours further on."

Difficulties Overcome
"For those who wish to make the trip more leisurely there will be intermediate services. We also hope gradually to be able to provide services stopping more frequently which will enable an increasing number of people to travel at lower fares."

Although he didn't commit himself regarding plans for a London-New York air service, Lord Knollys stated that the British Overseas Airways have now operated the Montreal-Britain service for more than two years.

"This is really a remarkable service, for it has had to overcome the problems and difficulties of flying the north Atlantic in winter time, particularly going from the east to west, where you can meet headwinds running up to 80 miles an hour or more and icing conditions which force you to fly at 20,000 feet," said Lord Knollys.

This service has provided valuable information for the efficient running of a north Atlantic service after the war."

Europe's Population Headed For Decline

CHICAGO—(INS)—Germany or any other European nation will be unable to terrorize the world again 20 years from now because their populations will be declining, Prof. William Fielding Ogburn, University of Chicago sociologist, predicted today.

Ogburn pointed out that diplomats at the peace table should take the population question into account. He declared:

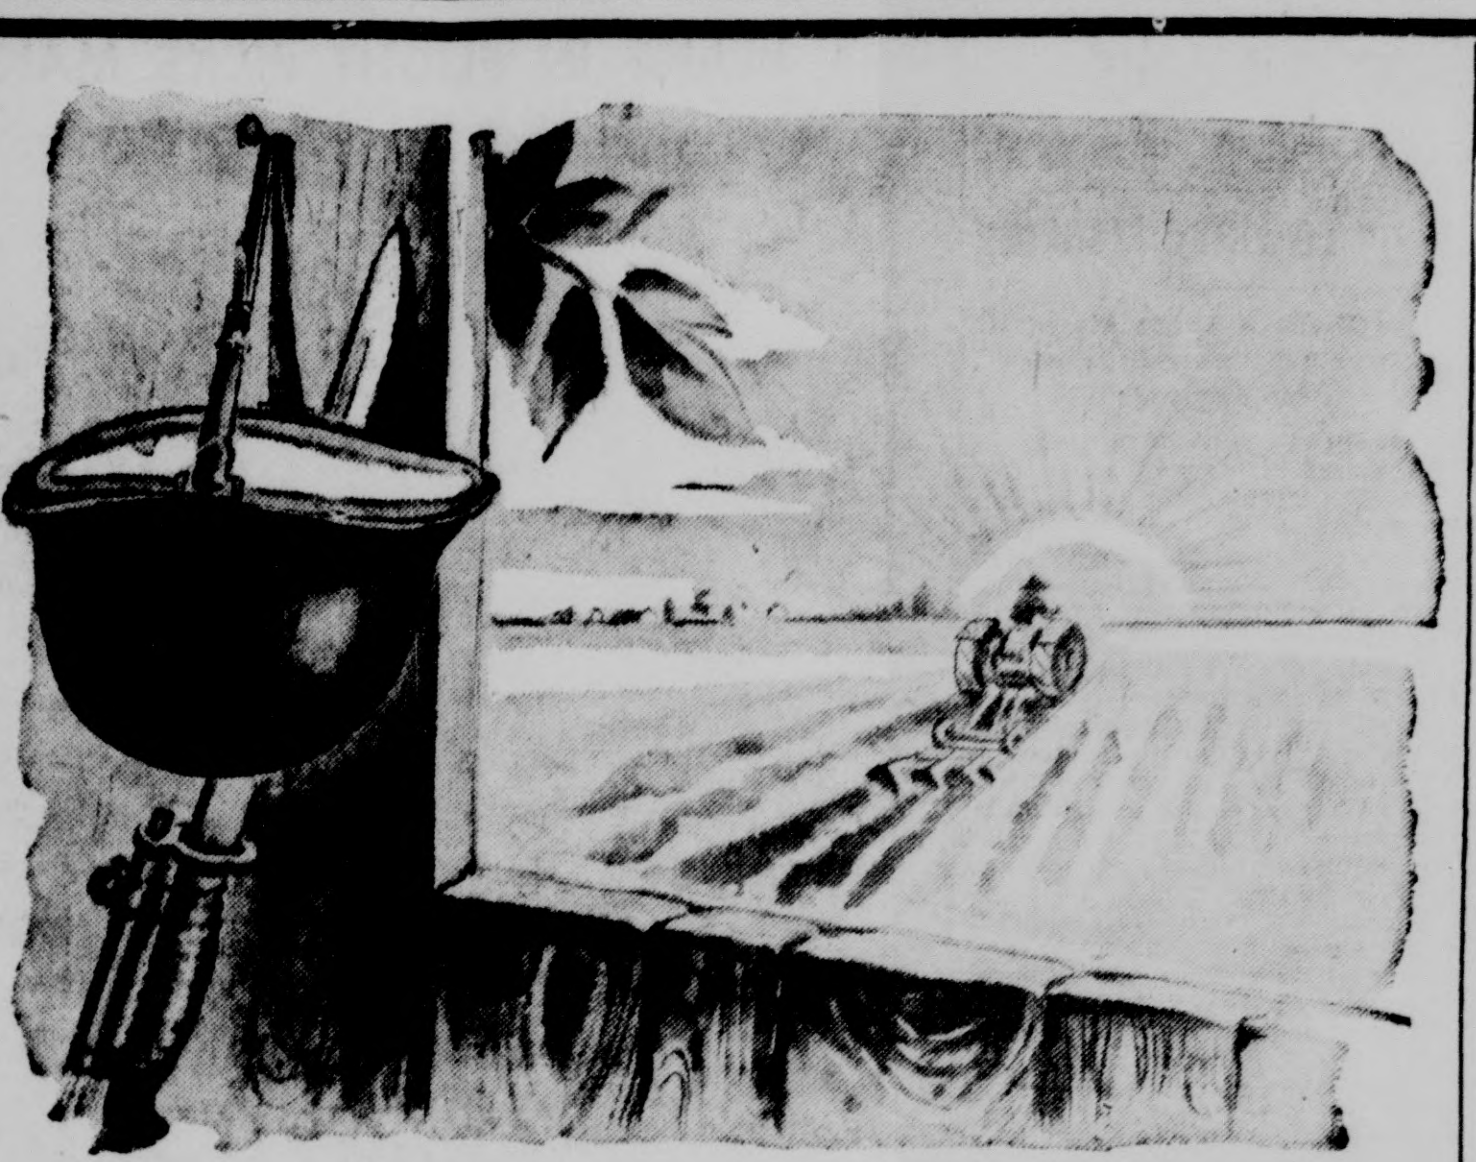

"The population of Europe, not including the USSR, will begin to decrease after reaching a high of 421 million by 1965. Germany's population is expected to start declining in 1960 from a peak of 72 million."

He added that as Germany's population declines, the population of America, Russia and Asia will be increasing.

As a result the United States and Russia will have a rising importance in international postwar policies, he concluded.

RESCUE RAFTS TESTED OFF FLORIDA COAST

(International News Service)
DAYTON, O.—Off Florida's coast recently a storm of near-hurricane velocity whipped about a strange flotilla of ships in the Gulf's turbulent 25-foot waves.

There were small rubber boats, the Army's latest in life rafts, incorporating new devices that will give our airmen a better chance against the sea.

In three different types of rafts, the men for five days and nights rode from the mountainous breakers, while storm signals flashed out from all coastal ports and no other craft ventured from their moorings.

The rafts, painted blue on the bottom so sharks wouldn't attack them, sported a new shaped sail which carried them along at better than six knots.

Water from Fish
The men, using newly developed fishing equipment, successfully ate small fish they caught and drank water obtained from squeezing the flesh.

One raft was purposely punctured to give the effect of bullets, and small wooden screw plugs proved effective to stop leakage.

This was the most extensive simulated emergency test ever conducted by technicians from Wright Field, Ohio. Results proved that they now have the most durable, sea-worthy life rafts for our air crews that the airplane will permit.

Rafts For Heavy Bombers
Largest of the rafts now being built is designed primarily for heavy bombers. Capable of keeping afloat 2,500 pounds of men and equipment, it weighs 106 pounds when inflated and has an over-all length about the same size as a large row boat.

Unlike older types which were made of fabric with rubber bladders inside, using the same principle as a football, the large rafts are made of rubberized fabric that is inflated and forms the shape of a boat. Fastened securely in small, watertight compartments are a series of kits that provide food, water, and patch materials. One kit is so complete that it even includes a small pair of sewing scissors.

A similar raft commonly called the "Rubber Rescuer" is being produced to be dropped from planes to survivors of torpedoed ships. Developed by technicians at Wright Field, this type is now being used by Army planes engaged in the job of sea search.

Smallest raft, one especially designed for pursuit and fighter planes, is the one-man parachute pack type.

Peacetime Army Training Plans To Have Hearing

Public Hearings To Be Staged On Peacetime Universal Training Proposals

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Rep. Woodrum (D) Va., chairman of the House Postwar Military Policy committee, disclosed today that public hearings will begin this month on peacetime universal training, one of the most controversial issues faced by the 79th Congress.

Woodrum said the hearings would probably open "right after the inauguration" on January 20 and expressed the hope that they could be completed "in two or three weeks." A definite date would be announced soon, he added.

Among the witnesses, said the congressman, will probably be Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal and Veterans' Administrator Frank T. Hines.

"It's going to be a very hotly contested thing," predicted Woodrum. "But it's going to be taken up right away. It's not going to be put off."

First Public Airings

Following completion of the hearings, Woodrum revealed, the House Military Affairs committee would probably hold its own. He said he understood its chairman, Rep. May (D) Ky., who is a member of the military policy committee, intended to hold his hearings in abeyance until the Woodrum group had completed its work.

The hearings will provide the first public airing in Congress of proposals for a peacetime draft. The Woodrum committee will not recommend legislation, leaving that to the military affairs committee, which is expected to consider universal service bills introduced by May and Rep. Wadsworth (R) N.Y., co-sponsor of the Selective Service Act.

Woodrum said the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other proponents generally favored one year of military training after the war for all youths upon leaving high school.

President Roosevelt has expressed the hope that some form of peacetime draft—whether educational or military—would be enacted by Congress this winter.

House Minority Leader Martin (R) Mass., has declared his opposition, however, to speedy action, indicating that the Republicans might favor postponing final consideration until after the war.

Of the 2,500,000,000 pounds of candy produced in 1943, about 20 percent was shipped to armed forces in the United States and abroad.

PLANE IN FLIGHT PICKS MAN OFF GROUND

PRACTICABILITY of picking a human being off the ground by a plane in full flight has been proved by experiments conducted by the Air Technical Service Command at Wright Field, Ohio. Staff Sgt. Harry C. Conway, equipment laboratory technician, is shown in the above photos being retrieved from the ground, upper left; towed up to the plane, right, and climbing in, lower left. As the flyer leaves the ground, the plane's tow rope has engaged the pick-up loop beginning his ascent with no shock. Climbing at an angle of 35 degrees or better, the plane pulls Conway in a swift but smooth take-off. As he is pulled up to the plane, Conway shimmies up the guide, grabs the doorsill and is helped in. Tests on the pick-up have been made for over a year, and now the experiment has advanced to such a point that AAF standardization will be seriously considered. These are official AAF photos. Lawrence County Farm And Home News

By Extension Representatives, LEWIS C. DAYTON, Agriculture; MISS LAURA PHILLIPPI, Home Economics

FEED STILL PROBLEM IN PORK PRODUCTION

The corn-hog situation has improved, but Lawrence county farmers should look into the feed problem carefully before deciding on increased pork production for 1945.

The supply of feed is greater now than for the corresponding time last year, and there are fewer animals to be fed, but feed prices are still high and transportation facilities for bringing feed from the big feed-producing areas in the west are still limited.

As a result, farmers should plan for no more litters of pigs in 1945 than they expect to have grain on hand to use in finishing them, or are assured that the necessary grain can be purchased.

BALANCE DAIRY HERD WITH SUPPLY OF FEED

For profitable returns, a dairy herd should be balanced by the supplies of roughage that can be produced on the farm. Roughage is the basis of any dairy cattle feeding program.

In areas which have a pasture season of five to seven months, the hay crop should average 1 1/2 to 2 tons of hay per cow, and in addition, 2 1/2 to 4 tons of silage should be produced per cow. This will allow the liberal roughage feeding program recommended by dairy extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.

There is no advantage of keeping more cows in the herd than can be fed liberally on roughage. If the roughage supply is short this season, it would be wise to cull the herd rather heavily. This will provide the better producers with all the roughage they can consume. The feeding program should be planned, so that not all the good hay is fed early, leaving nothing but poor quality hay for late winter and spring feeding.

Milking cows should be fed two to three pounds of good hay for every hundred-weight of animal per day. If silage is fed, a good proportion would include three to four pounds of silage with one and a quarter to one and three-quarter pounds of good hay. Good corn silage has about a third the feeding value of good hay.

EVERYONE URGED TO KEEP GOOD HEALTH IN 1945

Good health should be first in importance in our daily living. To guide the family in maintaining good health in 1945, the following suggestions have been approved by the U. S. Public Health Service:

1. Eat enough of the right kind of food.
2. Get plenty of sleep and recreation.
3. Keep everything clean.
4. Wear clothes that are suitable for the weather.
5. Drink water that you know is safe.
6. Remove causes of accidents and be careful.
7. Learn how to take care of minor sicknesses and hurts.
8. Visit the doctor and dentist for a check-up at least once a year.
9. Don't bother the doctor with unnecessary calls, but see him at the first sign of a serious illness.
10. Use only the medicines approved or prescribed by the doctor.
11. Take care of your teeth.

NEW WAYS TO RELIEVE HOUSE "ROOM-ATISM"

Does your house have "room-atism" because it lacks color and light, has out-of-date or worn out furnishings, rooms are over-stuffed, or it has some other ailment? The cure is well worth the thought, time and expense you put into correcting the defect.

Much, if not all, of the work can be done at home at little cost if you are handy with needle and thread and tools. Why not start with the overstuffed room. Unless the furniture is oversized, use only the furniture and furnishings that are needed for comfort and attractiveness. Place the largest pieces against and parallel to the wall, group small pieces together, and keep the center of the room clear. In case the furniture is too big for the room, perhaps the oversized pieces may be cut down or moved into a larger room.

Worn out or out-of-date furnishings may be made into good looking modern ones. Refinish scuffed woods and repair broken down furniture. Make large chairs into smaller ones and remove ornate, useless, and glued-on decorations. Outmoded pieces, such as the heavy mirror-framed bureau, the old head couch, the overelaborate bookcase and bed, can be remodeled into simpler designs.

Color and light give room character, friendliness, and cheer. If your room is drab, plan a new color scheme. Get different paint or paper for the walls, paint the woodwork a matching color, and make colorful slip covers to hide dull upholstery. Use either draperies or glass curtains at the windows but be sure that ample light gets into the room. Rearrange lamps so that the reading, writing and other centers have the correct amount of light for the work done there.

Homemakers who would like to have help in removing the "room-atism" from their homes may consult Miss Laura Philippippi, Home Economics Extension Representative for Lawrence County, office 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Respect For Authority Is Key To Delinquency Problem

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The key to solving the juvenile delinquency problem, according to Supt. Dan L. Rees of Thorn Hill, a school for wayward boys, is respect for authority.

"A recent study," he said, "revealed that 65 per cent of the boys who have been committed to Thorn Hill for correction have 'gone straight' after they were released."

Extending over 1,500 acres, the school, maintained by Allegheny county, is a model of its kind in the United States.

The boys live in widely scattered "cottages," each under the supervision of "cottage parents," who are real "moms" and "dads" to the boys living with them.

Rees blames the depression loss of family security and wartime restlessness for the fact that 380 delinquent boys are now being trained at Thorn Hill.

"Respect for authority," Rees, who should know for he is working constantly with juvenile delinquents, emphasized, "must be bred in the home and developed in the school."

Every attempt is made by the superintendent and his staff to develop at the school the desire to be good citizens which the boys will carry with them into their home communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Firrell, who have been cottage parents at the school since 1918, are typical examples of the staff of Thorn Hill.

Local Seaman Is Listed As Missing

Yeoman Coville S. Hemphill Reported As Missing In Pacific Area By Navy Department

According to a message received by his parents, Coville S. Hemphill, aged 20 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Hemphill, of 815 West Washington street, Yeoman 2-C, U. S. Navy, has been listed as missing in action in the Pacific theater of operations.

Yeoman Hemphill has been in service since January, 1942, and has been in the Pacific for the past two years, after seeing service in the Atlantic area for a year.

The last letter received by his parents from him was dated December 5, 1944.

Coal Deliveries Must Be Limited

If you need coal during this spell of hard winter weather, don't ask for five or ten tons. Ask for one from your regular dealer, for the probabilities are that is all you will get.

Temporarily, the coal supply in New Castle is short, due to conditions caused by the weather. Representatives of the Coal Dealers' Association conferred with Solid Fuels Administrator Suter of Pittsburgh and impressed him with the fact that car load shipments of coal to New Castle have been less than the tonnage needed. Country mines are down, due to the roads leading in to them being blocked by snow.

The coal dealers stress the fact that as long as customers do not get panicky the situation is not too bad. Panic buying is the one thing that is warned against. You can burn only so much coal, and if you have two or three tons in the bin, don't rush to the telephone and try to "fill 'er up." The dealers are endeavoring to supply the genuine needs of their customers but this is no time to stock ahead.

Army Tightens Ward Control

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The army tightened its control over Montgomery Ward & Co. in true military fashion today and announced it was administering the huge mail order business in the plants seized in Chicago and six other cities.

Army officers in charge of the Chicago properties took over the big third floor vault in the administration building, assumed jurisdiction over the money it contained, changed the combination on the locks, chose a new depository for company funds and announced they would handle payrolls henceforth.

Following removal of rebellious company officials in Chicago and other cities several of the recalcitrants were called before the federal grand jury today to determine if they were violating the war disruption act or the general conspiracy laws in refusing to co-operate with army officials.

Mercer Is Nearly Snowbound Again

MERCER, Jan. 3.—A drifting snowfall, coupled with a breakdown in state highway department equipment at Mercer, closed all roads in Mercer county Tuesday except U. S. routes 19 through Mercer and 62 from Sharon to Mercer and state route 18 from Sharon to Greenville.

Schools in smaller communities were closed by impassable roads and hundreds of rural residents dependent on driving their automobiles or riding buses to work were unable to reach their jobs.

Four and one half inches of snow fell Monday, according to Francis A. Mucklow, in charge of the U. S. weather bureau office at Mercer airport.

Man Injured Battling Fire

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Joseph Diprimio, 65, was in a serious condition today from burns suffered while helping to fight the flames which gutted a section of the Old Shay Tavern, which is owned by his son.

None of the county commissioners were able to get to Mercer Tuesday forenoon and several of the employees in the different offices were unable to reach the county seat.

Garden seeds held over from the last year are apt to be good for planting if they produced good crops last year.

Helping Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill's Marauders to end their first Burma campaign with the capture of the stubbornly defended Myitkyna town and airfield were the 75-mm. pack howitzers, manufactured at the Watervliet, N.Y., arsenal. The howitzers were disassembled and dropped by air to the troops.

Sergeant Amazes With Operations In Emergencies

By FRANK CONNIF
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH AMERICAN INFANTRY
IN THE ARDENNES FOREST, Jan. 3.—Equipped with only a pair of GI scissors, a scalpel and the knowledge he had picked up as a U. S. Army medical aid man, 23-year-old Sgt. Frank Palco, Roth, Va., amputated the legs of three Belgian women who were pinned beneath the wreckage of a demolished air raid shelter at Malmédy, army doctors revealed today.

The women were trapped under a falling beam which crushed their legs and trapped them in the choking dust of an air raid shelter destroyed by a recent enemy air attack.

With the exception of experience picked up in army field stations, Palco knew nothing at all about surgery. He had never studied medicine, his nearest approach to the subject being hygiene courses in high school and the Virginia Polytechnic institute.

Two of the women recovered. The third, a woman whose resistance was weakened by old age, died after she had been removed from the debris of the shelter and rushed to a hospital.

Seventeen Bodies Found In Wreckage

YUMA, Ariz., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Seventeen bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of a big army C-47 transport plane which crashed on Black Mesa mountain near Yuma Christmas day while enroute from Tucson, Ariz., to Los Angeles, it was announced today.

Col. Herbert W. Anderson, commandant of the Yuma army airfield, identified seven of the victims. The latter included Master Sgt. J. H. Maier, engineer of Covington, Ohio.

Identity of the other ten passengers aboard the plane was not announced pending notification of next of kin. Col. Anderson said.

MUST NOT WASTE OIL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration warned today that some homes may suffer from inadequate heat next spring due to present above-normal consumption of fuel oil rations, particularly in the east coast area.

"With war needs continuing to be extremely heavy," OPA said, "civilian stocks are adequate for rationed use, but will not cover emergencies resulting from wasteful burning of oil."

CHAPLIN CASE NEARING JURY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A superior court jury of seven women and five men will begin deliberation whether Charlie Chaplin is the father of Joan Barry's baby, immediately after Judge Henry M. Willis gives them their final instructions at the opening of court.

Confronting the jurors when they retire will be the choice between two verdicts only:

"We find the defendant, Charles Chaplin, is the father of Carol Ann Barry," or "We find the defendant, Charles Chaplin, is not the father of Carol Ann Barry."

To return a verdict, the vote must be at least nine to three.

Germany Claims Allied Casualties To Exceed 50,000

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The German high command in its communique today claimed that Allied casualties in the great Winter battle on the Western Front totaled more than 50,000.

According to German calculations, the Allies lost 400 guns, 1,230 tanks and armored vehicles and more than 24,000 prisoners.

The Americans, it said, stubbornly continued the attempt to press in the German front west of Bastogne with four armored and as many infantry divisions and to destroy the German east and southeast of the town from three sides. The Americans have lost more than 100 tanks in this unsuccessful action, Berlin alleged.

Continued "heavy, fluctuating fighting" in the Bastogne area was reported, as well as long-range firing on Liege and Antwerp.

Manpower Will Be Supplied Industry

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Critical industries will be supplied with much-needed manpower—either through the voluntary action of workers, or through government force, Paul Lewis, deputy director of region three of the war manpower commission, maintained.

Lewis told a conference of top-flight Philadelphia business and industrial executives, that if workers in non-critical industries do not volunteer for work in more vital plants, "all enforcement powers of the WMC and other government agencies" will be brought to bear against them.

Lewis said that Frank L. McNamee, regional manpower director, is now accompanying WMC Commissioner Paul McNutt on a tour of the Western European battle front.

Command Of Late Admiral Ramsay May Be Divided

LONDON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Death of Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsay, allied naval commander-in-chief in Europe, who was killed in an airplane crash yesterday in France, may lead to a division of the post into separate commands, naval circles believed today.

The allied naval chief is responsible for shipping between the United States and Europe and Britain and Europe and it was pointed out a large part of this shipping is now no longer operational.

A dispatch from Paris said that the airplane in which Ramsay was riding at the time of his death crashed shortly after taking off from an airfield near Paris. It was believed that he died instantly.

Help For Tigers

Return of Al Benton, former star pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, to the Detroit fold next year will give the Tigers 11 pitchers unless new draft directive changes it next season. Benton has been discharged by the Navy for medical reasons.

It is well to remember that temporary setbacks in warfare bring the jitters among politicians on the home front. When the boys overseas begin rolling forward again, our politicians will get their feet warmed up.

Incidentally, the loss of racing probably will prove a boon to baseball and boxing, for race fans usually also are baseball and fight fans. If they can't go to the track, many more of them will go to the ball game.

What is the outlook generally? Boxing: Promoter Mike Jacobs says there will be more than 5,000 pro boxers in action in '45 and that he himself will stage bouts whose gates will total at least $2,000,000.

Baseball: If the major league races are reasonably close, we look for a record attendance. The quality of the play will not be any worse than it was last year.

Tennis: We'll see an improvement in the play with several fine juniors moving up into top flight competition.

Hockey: Can't be any worse. Any improvement is bound to be for the better. It all depends on how soon Canadian players may be released from the army. In any event, whether the hockey be good, bad or indifferent, the ice fans will pack the arenas.

Golf: With stars like Sammy Snead setting out of the Army, the play should improve and competition will be stiffer for one or two fellows who had had it all their own way. And they will have just as many tournaments to play in as they did last year.

Basketball: Excellent, as usual. Track and field: There were fewer records last year than ever before and we may look for improvement this year with the game getting a lift from foreign competition.

Football: There will be thousands of V-12s available and we'll have at least as good a season as we had in '44. More colleges will drift back into the game.

So, we can all quit worrying and throw away the crying towel. Sports will do all right.

Despite Race Track Closing Other Sports Will Flourish In 1945 Is Belief

END OF WAR TO SEE SPORT BOOM

By PAT ROBINSON (International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Some of the prophets of doom seem to be wearing their usual sport pusses concerning the sport outlook for 1945.

We do not agree with them. On the contrary, we step way out on a limb to predict sports will enjoy one of its best years. This, too, despite the racing blackout.

We were not unduly surprised by the ban on racing nor were we at all alarmed. Racing will come back, if not this year, then surely when the war is won.

We were not unduly surprised by the ban on racing nor were we at all alarmed. Racing will come back, if not this year, then surely when the war is won.

It is well to remember that temporary setbacks in warfare bring the jitters among politicians on the home front. When the boys overseas begin rolling forward again, our politicians will get their feet warmed up.

Incidentally, the loss of racing probably will prove a boon to baseball and boxing, for race fans usually also are baseball and fight fans. If they can't go to the track, many more of them will go to the ball game.

What is the outlook generally? Boxing: Promoter Mike Jacobs says there will be more than 5,000 pro boxers in action in '45 and that he himself will stage bouts whose gates will total at least $2,000,000.

Baseball: If the major league races are reasonably close, we look for a record attendance. The quality of the play will not be any worse than it was last year.

Tennis: We'll see an improvement in the play with several fine juniors moving up into top flight competition.

Hockey: Can't be any worse. Any improvement is bound to be for the better. It all depends on how soon Canadian players may be released from the army. In any event, whether the hockey be good, bad or indifferent, the ice fans will pack the arenas.

Golf: With stars like Sammy Snead setting out of the Army, the play should improve and competition will be stiffer for one or two fellows who had had it all their own way. And they will have just as many tournaments to play in as they did last year.

Basketball: Excellent, as usual. Track and field: There were fewer records last year than ever before and we may look for improvement this year with the game getting a lift from foreign competition.

Football: There will be thousands of V-12s available and we'll have at least as good a season as we had in '44. More colleges will drift back into the game.

So, we can all quit worrying and throw away the crying towel. Sports will do all right.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Some of the prophets of doom seem to be wearing their usual sport pusses concerning the sport outlook for 1945.

We do not agree with them. On the contrary, we step way out on a limb to predict sports will enjoy one of its best years. This, too, despite the racing blackout.

STOCK MARKET MOVES FORWARD

Industrial Stocks Take Lead Role
In Upturn Of Market
Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The stock market moved ahead in vigorous session this morning, trading nearly a half million shares in the first hour and adding almost a dollar in value to the Dow Jones industrial averages.

The industrials had the lead role, with such performers as Bethlehem Steel, U.S. Steel, Anaconda, Chrysler, General Motors and some of the principal oils in the starring roles.

Big blocks also were a common sight in the first minutes of trading. Strings of 2,000 and 2,500 shares of Anaconda appeared. There was a block of 1,500 U.S. Steel and 1,000 Socony while the low-priced Aviation Corp. was turned over for a total of 6,500 shares in a few minutes.

Gains ran to 1½ points in Bethlehem and a full point in Chrysler. Rails were only slightly better and utilities dull.

Curb prices moved upward in step with the big board. Bonds improved modestly.

YANKS PULL TEETH OF ONE TIGER

"HOLD THAT TIGER" has become a Belgian front battlecry, as well as a football rooting-section refrain—and here is one "King Tiger" knocked out of action. Governor Martin Awaits Reaction To His Proposals

Postwar Program Of $200,000,000 Embracing Many Features Submitted To Legislature

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin today awaited the legislature's reaction to a proposed $200,000,000 postwar program embracing welfare and educational improvements, conservation, purification of waterways and highway reconstruction.

Approximately $110,735,000 in state funds was recommended for overall undertakings while another $80,000,000, representing a cash balance in the motor license fund, was earmarked for postwar highway construction. Additional federal aid totaling $37,000,000 was anticipated by the highways department during the biennium beginning June 1.

The latest recommendation was $15,735,000 to enable the welfare department to construct and improve penal and mental institutions, similar work on state hospitals and sanatoria as well as correction of stream pollution under a $12,325,900 fund was suggested for the health department.

Reforestation and stream reclamation were to be carried out under a $11,000,000 grant to the department of forests and waters. The chief executive did not ask for specific appropriations for cleaning polluted waterways, but $1,000,000 was suggested for port improvements in Erie, Philadelphia and Chester.

Other appropriations for construction and repairs totaling $20,305,000 were urged for the department of military affairs, the department of property and supplies, the department of public instruction and the Pennsylvania state police.

The project recommended included erection at Harrisburg of a William Penn memorial capital building alterations costing $6,500,000 and construction of an $855,000 executive mansion. A $2,050,000 grant was proposed for the erection of state police barracks and $3,400,000 for reconditioning of armories, improvement of Indian town Gap military installations and preservation of selective service records.

Needed alterations for teachers colleges and other institutions in the postwar era under an $8,000,000 appropriation was suggested.

Governor Martin called upon the

Four Women In State Legislature

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Four "lady legislators" were ready today to help decide Pennsylvania's legislative and postwar program during the 1945 biennial session.

Miss Anna M. Brancato, Philadelphia Democrat, termed the seating of women in the house for the first time since 1940 a "step ahead" in legislative progress. Miss Brancato formerly served from 1933-1940 and authored the so-called "cocktail law" requiring a three-day wait before obtaining a marriage license.

"I think it is a step forward to have so many women in the house at the same time," she declared. "It is too bad no women were elected to the senate."

Two other Philadelphia Democrats, Miss Mary A. Varallo and Mrs. Josephine C. Coyle, serving in their first terms, looked forward to the passage of stream purification legislation because "we're drinking the water from the Schuylkill". Mrs. Coyle, who has three sons in the service, was particularly interested in the enactment of measures beneficial to veterans.

The sole Republican, Mrs. Jeanette M. Dye of Sandy Lake, called for educational improvements, especially a blanket teacher salary increase.

Volunteer Firemen Elect Alexander

Arthur Alexander was elected president of the sixth ward volunteer firemen at an election held recently in the Smithfield street house. Other officers named follow: Vice president, Wayne Booth; secretary, Donald Campbell; treasurer, Arthur Bloomer; trustees, George Booth, Wayne Booth and Arthur Bloomer; delegate to general department, Louis Faller, Jack Lynn and Roswell Klaber, and representative to relief, Peter Stevenson and Roswell Klaber.

MAYOR SURVEYS N. Y. MEAT CRISIS

A DAWN PATROL of New York area meat markets was headed by Mayor Fiorello "Butch" LaGuardia as the meat situation in Manhattan approached a crisis after butchers, who had first indicated intention of closing their shops, said they would open their shops but one day a week. Here the mayor gives a critical eye to available supplies of beef and pork in the course of a 5:20 A. M. tour of the markets. (International)

SLIGHT RELIEF FROM COLD WAVE

Northwestern Pennsylvania And Northern Ohio Are Reported As Snowbound

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Only slight relief from the winter's worst cold wave was in sight today for western Pennsylvanians as the mercury skidded toward the zero mark again.

Bitter cold, accentuated by gusts of wind that whipped Monday's four-inch snowfall into drifts which blocked roads and impeded travel, gripped the entire district.

State police reported that northwestern Pennsylvania and northern Ohio were snowbound, with all travel by highway into Erie except one closed by drifted snow.

The Greyhound Bus company cancelled its trips to Cleveland and Detroit yesterday after the severe storm swept the northern section of Ohio and Pennsylvania and on into western New York.

Eighty-five marooned motorists were hospitalized for frostbite at Bowling Green, O., after being trapped in the blizzard late Monday night. Altogether, more than 300 persons were caught in the huge drifts spun up by the high winds.

Some main roads, particularly in the northern section of western Pennsylvania, were drift-closed and nearly all secondary or rural roads remained snowbound. Where travel was possible it was extremely hazardous as hard-packed snow and ice coated the highways.

Butler Missing Pastor Found

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Rev. William C. McLean Jr., 38, pastor of the Butler St. Peter's Episcopal church, who had been missing since last Friday, today was recuperating in St. Francis hospital.

Friends at Washington, Pa., where he formerly served as rector of Trinity church, found him after his wife had reported him missing to Butler police.

Dr. John A. Malcom, his physician, said last night he had not seen him and did not know the nature of illness. However, he discounted reports of church officials at Butler that the rector had suffered a head injury.

Rev. McLean went to Rochester last Friday to pick up his automobile, which he had left there after the blizzard December 11. He then drove to Washington to visit for friends, according to reports from that city.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—Some speculations have been aroused by outgoing Auditor General F. Clair Ross' announcement that he will relinquish his administrative post next month and take his oath as a member of the Superior Court bench. His action will leave the $12,000 a year job open until May 1 when incoming Auditor General J. Harold Wagner, moves his desk from the State Treasurer's office.

The governor may appoint a Democratic Auditor General, a Republican Administrator or ignore the vacancy and throw the burden on deputy Ted A. Rosenberg. The appointment of a Republican was considered remote.

Seventy-one year old James John Davis, of Pittsburgh, who has represented Pennsylvania in the U. S. Senate for 14 years, has stepped out of the public spotlight after 46 years of public service. "Pud-dler Jim," defeated for re-election, worked in the steel mills at Pittsburgh, Birmingham, Ala., and Elwood, Ind., before he was elected City Clerk of Elwood in 1898 when he was 25 years old. Nine years later he became Director General of the Loyal Order of Moose, a post he still holds, and was named Secretary of Labor by President Harding in 1921. He held the same post under Presidents Coolidge and Hoover.

The Commerce Department's Recreation Bureau expects 1945 attendance at Pennsylvania's summer camps to exceed the 58,459 persons registered at State-approved locations during 1944. Last summer's attendance was 10,063 persons more than had used the facilities in 1943.

Increased capacity would be reflected in an immediate jump in registrations, according to J. Herbert Walker, director of tourist and recreational information. "According to advance registration reports," he said, "1945 enrollments will probably surpass those of the past summer." Last year, 93 camps were operated for boys, 67 for girls, 51 for adults and 37 for boys and girls.

The Department of Highways has reported cooperating with State Police at the request of army officials in locating a truck stalled in the snow in Erie county while loaded with special equipment being rushed to England. Police found the stalled truck and highway maintenance crews cleared a path "all the way across the State of Pennsylvania," according to Secretary John U. Shroyer.

The Health Department has handled applications from more than 37,000 wives seeking State Maternity and Infant Care while their husbands were in the armed forces. The program, now entering its second year, provides assistance only for wives and children of soldiers in the lower four pay grades. The program was expanded November 1 to include bedside nursing.

GLADWYNNE.—Biographers of Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, could turn to two youths for accurate information about the popular five-star general. The boys, Blair Murphy, 13, and Ian Wheelock, 12, published the "True Story" of the life of the general in their own newspaper, the Sunny Hill news. It must have been an interesting article because their circulation jump from 300 to 400.

PHILIPSBURG.—When you say

POTTSTOWN.—Fireman credited the quick thinking of 14-year-old Richard Knod with preventing a serious fire. He saw smoke coming from a garage and turned in an alarm. Shortly before firemen arrived a gasoline tank in a burning truck exploded but the fire was quickly brought under control.
